Our commitment to you on how we handle your complaint

We take each complaint seriously and will work with you to find an outcome that is fair and which meets our obligations under the law.

We will provide information about our complaint handling process, the timeframes that apply and the progress of your complaint.

If you are hearing impaired, we can use the National Relay Service to relay your conversation with a member of our team.

1

We aim to resolve your complaint within 24 hours or 1 business day and will ensure we stay in contact during all stages of the complaint. We may do this by contacting you by phone or providing a written update.

2

For any complaint that is resolved after 5 days (or if you request it), we will provide to you in writing the outcome and resolution of the complaint for your records. We will always provide a written response if your complaint relates to hardship.

3

If we have not been able to resolve your complaint within 21 days, we will write to you and advise of the reason for delay, and provide the contact details to escalate your concern to an external dispute resolution scheme (if you choose). On the rare occasion that the complaint can't be resolved by 30 days, we will write to you again.
